

Maria Magana

The proposed mega-dam on the Chehalis River could cost close to $2 Billion with no good plan to pay for it. It would harm the salmon and steelhead runs, hurt our fishing and hunting economies, and siphon funding from bigger-picture solutions. This proposal needs to address these issues before it should be considered. I urge you not to support this plan. We are all stewards of the environment and should do what we can to protect it, not exploit it.