We are just beginning to see the amazing resistance of wild salmon when they have free flowing rivers. The removal of the Klamath dam as well as the Elwha and Glines Canyon Dams have shown us that dam removal is the future of our rivers and absolutely necessary for the survival of wild salmon. Going backwards a with a dam on the Chehalis River would be the wrong solution. More works needs to be done to find a long lasting and non-destructive flood control solution. It is within our power as humans to find a better way. We can do it better!!!
