

Dwight Rousu

The damn planned will have environmental damages that can be expected to get worse over time due to climate change and river warming. Potential warming and desertification may remove any hypothesized power benefit. Any electrical power benefit could be provided by wind and solar; sooner and at lower cost.