

Krystal Miller

I am extremely concerned the state is resorting to dam construction after decades of knowledge gained of the negative environmental consequences of dam construction and operation. This is an ill-advised and outdated solution to a serious issue.

More effective, less damaging flood-reduction approaches already exist, including the Local Actions Non-Dam Alternative. I urge Ecology to pursue these solutions instead of the proposed dam.