

Teresa DeLorenzo

Don't dam the Chehalis. There are better ways to manage potential floods that don't destroy habitat for fish and wildlife.

The proposed mega-dam could now cost upwards of $2 billion—with no plan to pay for it. It would harm salmon and steelhead runs, hurt fishing and hunting economies, and siphon funding from better solutions.

No dam on the Chehalis -- keep it running free!