

Virginia Larson

We have finally realized our past errors in damming our rivers and restricting the salmon runs. I have celebrated the removal of dams in Washington State and despair that once again it is being considered to build a new dam against all research against this. Please reconsider this action.

Virginia Larson