

Cori Sharp

This project is incredibly concerning to me. As a graduate student in fisheries and wildlife at Michigan State University, I regularly learn about the incredibly negative environmental effects of dams on native fish and other aquatic animals. It pains me to hear of a new project that will cause more harm in Washington, the state where I consider to be my home and where I one day want to raise my kids. We should be finding ways to remove the dams that we have already created, not create new ways to damage aquatic life.