

Franklin Drumwright

At this time of climate change, we have done enough damn building. We must do more studies to protect fish and wildlife as well as consideration of private property that would be affected. The Trump Administration has not proven to be trustworthy in any decision for the environment or contract offers. Please do not go forward with the Chehalis River Damn Project.