I'm a lifelong Washington resident, registered voter and avid outdoorsperson. The Chehalis river represents one of the great fishing rivers of our state and supports so much habitat and recreational opportunity for so many Washingtonians.

I oppose the dam project because I don't think it will provide adequate flood control and I know that the impact to the environment will be terribly negative.

The best way to preserve our natural heritage is to let this river flow free to let the salmon return and the steelhead return and protect habitat for elk and deer and Beaver and other animals.

I do not support this dam, please keep this comment as part of the public record....
