

ALBERTO VITARI

Constructing a flood retention facility is likely to have major impact on the environment for decades. I urge reconsidering projects and solutions with lower environmental impacts.