

Martine Smets

Hello,

Transitioning away from an existing coal-fired electrical generation facility in Lewis County to generate electricity is definitely needed. But it should be replaced by a clean energy electricity generating facility, not a natural gas one. We need to move away from fossil fuels, and natural gas is a fossil fuel. It does not make sense at this point to invest in natural gas-generated electricity. It will just generate more emissions, more pollution and electricity rate increases in the future.

Our state is experiencing drought and severe fires due to fossil fuels; we need to invest in clean energy and stop all investment in fossil fuels.

Please reject TransAlta's proposition and demand a clean-energy proposal instead.