I support restoring Capital lake to an estuary. I love to eat salmon so very much support all habitat restoration efforts for salmon runs. It would be great if prices for salmon could be more affordable. This year I've seen prices as much as $40 a pound for fresh salmon. How about we strive to make it less than $10 a pound? I value safe, abundant and healthy and clean food systems over the shipping industry. Why can't we have a salmon based economy? I value people over profits and feeding people over expanding trains, planes and automobiles.
