

Edward Mann

Why is the State of Washington investing money and resources in Tribal lands and potential carbon projects on Tribal lands when the State has no authority on these lands. The scarce funds invested in any Tribal effort may be better spent in funding efforts on private lands, where the real need is. Management of Tribal resources is under Tribal and Federal jurisdiction.