

Sara Bhakti

The Clean Vehicles program can't come soon enough. Protecting the environment is my top priority. I am saddened by the opposition of some industry and other groups who put their profits above the value of an inhabitable earth. Short sighted and regressive policies will create their own results and a drag on the change we need.