

Sands McKinley

Washington should not follow California over the cliff by repeating or outdoing CA's excessive far-left climate policies. The cost of living is already too high for most Washingtonians and prices at the pump are nuts. Stop the insanity and let's go back to the good old days when WA was a moderate, centrist, balanced, practical state.