

Chris Covert-Bowlds

Good morning, I'm Chris Covert-Bowlds, C-H-R-I-S-C-O-V-E-R-T-B-O-W-L-D-S. I'm a father and family doctor in Seattle. I'm a co-chair of the Washington Physicians for Social Responsibility Climate and Health Task Force. Washington Physicians for Social Responsibility strongly supports this clean truck rule for the health of all Washington residents. As a family doctor, I treat many adults and children with asthma, Emphysema, heart failure. They should all breathe easier with cleaner, less polluted air that this rule will provide. Personally, our son struggled with asthma as a toddler. And seeing your child gasping for breath is very scary, something no parent should ever have to face. So please support this rule as proposed. As the lung association says, "When you can't breathe, nothing else matters". Thank you
