

Gregory Means

We do not need more environmental policies! That costs Washington taxpayers more money, and really doesn't help the environment or the economy. Let's try spending less, and doing more with what we already have.