

matthew Dean

As a road cyclist for more than 30years it is concerning the trend to larger diesel trucks on the road that make it challenging to breathe while cycling. Why and how is this the trend in the world of trucks. Time for greater clean air rights for all that share the road.

Thanks