

Larry Leveen

I support strong regulations to protect air quality and limit pollutants. This disproportionately affects less affluent communities both in terms of direct exposure as well as impacts from climate issues.