

Brian Smith

I would like to record my objection to this change. I think we are being too restrictive. We would be legislating changes which are difficult to meet and costly. We are proposing this because it "is good for the environment", not because it is proven technology.