

Kevin Stich

Anything that makes prices go higher and higher is foolish. Electric trucks are a ridiculous waste of resources. Battery-powered vehicles only enrich the Chinese who make the batteries. The toxicity of these batteries is well known and worse than that of petroleum-powered vehicles. They are not recyclable and make us dependent on disposal sites, which will be toxic forever.