Enough with the harassment of farmers! We all know that methane and CO2 are blamed for natural climate variations. The climate has been changing for 500 million years, long before humans existed. Leave the farmers alone-- they produce less pollution than fast food restaurants or junk food manufacturers. Instead of constant harassment, why don't you leave farmers alone, like we've done for the past 10,000 years. Stop empire-building and rule making or we'll sic DOGE on you.
