Thank you for the opportunity to submit comments on transportation electrification and clean vehicles in Washington State. I appreciate your work to make sure that our state is a leader in building a clean transportation future. As you develop clean transportation strategies, I encourage state leaders to prioritize the following:

- Adopt policies that lower the cost of purchasing and owning electric vehicles given that the federal government is no longer providing a tax incentive.

- Adopt policies that reduce transportation pollution around ports and warehouses, such as rebates that incentivize zero-emission trucks.
