Can we help fund public schools and public libraries by locating charging stations across wa on school grounds. This can also help bring chargers into neighborhoods. Apartment dwellers in urban areas often lack access to chargers making it harder to lower income people to reap the benefits and savings of an electric car. THis would provide access to chargers near apartments and give people a place to hang out while charging in the library or walking the track at a school for exercise. Can we provide incentives ofr landlords to install chargers at their apartment properites?
