

Brie Gyncild

I support ZEVergreen. Especially now that we can't count on the federal government to keep us safe, state action to promote clean transportation is imperative.

We need to do everything we can to reduce the use of fossil fuels in our transportation system. Even better, we can improve lives, and reduce congestion and injuries if we help people transition to the use of ebikes instead of larger vehicles.