

Linda Ellsworth

I have been driving an EV for 10 years now and I love it! I wish there were more EVs on the road because I can't stand breathing car exhaust. I've recently read that vehicle fumes are a contributing factor for early onset Alzheimer's disease.

Now that the federal government is withdrawing support for EVs, it's imperative that states do even more to make up the gap.