

Gregory Green

The geological/natural area involved has value far in excess of any immediate financial rewards derived from fracking. We should be promoting the the incredible healthy beauty of the Delaware River and its environs.