

Michael Odell

Hydraulic fracking is a total travesty, squeezing the proverbial blood from a stone. Besides contaminating ground / well water, the by products, ie waste are just as bad. petrol distillates to depleted uranium to mention a few. And you guys at DRBC want to impose this nightmare on 16 million people who live along side the Delaware river? What is your end game, kill off as many of us Americans, who aren't billionaires to prolong the crash of the fossil fuel industry. No, this is an unregulated, out of control industry, thank you Dick Cheney . The men and women who are working this field could be building wind turbines, installing solar and be guaranteed to have employment for a lifetime. Get with it guys, this isn't 1918, it's 2018, the future demands change, WE the People demand a sustainable renewable energy sector.