

Ellen Gachesa

I support protecting waterways all over the country from fracking. How much more uninhabitable does the planet need to become before the stupid human race GETS IT. We are destroying the Earth. And the commission's noise about allowing fracking waste to be imported and processed in the basin and water to be extracted for fracking up someone else's community is also absurd. Do we have to have totally poisonous water before we stop POLLUTING it?! In LESS THAN 100 YEARS, this monstrous toxic stew humans have created will make living on Earth like a Mad Max movie, with water and food wars, dooming the next couple of generations. ABSOLUTELY NO FRACKING ANYWHERE!! We already have the technology to use CLEAN ENERGY. Look at Germany! They produce more than half their energy now with CLEAN ENERGY, and more to come in the future. America is lagging behind as corporate America owns our Congress, who are little more than corporate whores doing their puppetmasters bidding. Instead of even THINKING about continuing ravaging the planet, why not put that time energy into CLEAN ENERGY plans? Otherwise, there IS no future!