

Joe Janick

Good afternoon,

I'm a resident of the Delaware River Basin, in class we watched the film Grassland. I'm a very concerned with what fracking, and the effects of the environment and the health of residents. The illness fracking creates due to the heavy metals involved with fracking, the water that is toxic and that is able to catch fire. Yes, water that is able to catch fire. I mean, THE WATER CATCHES ON FIRE, and fracking is still allowed? Habit is going to be destroyed, animals who drink the water out of the river will be poisoned. Hopefully, you have a conscious and realize that the health of the public and environment is more important than business. Thank you.

-Joe Janick