

Jeffrey Janiger

All types of fracking should be banned in the Delaware River water basin. It is essential to protect the drinking water and overall environmental health of this treasure of the nation.