

Ada Brunner

Fracking pollutes the water and soil, even under the best of circumstances. To permit it in the Delaware River basin, the source of drinking water for millions of people, is unconscionable.