

Stephen Schatz

I heartily endorse safe hydraulic fracturing in the Delaware River watershed in order to extract highly needed, clean burning natural gas. Adequate protections should involve adequate cleaning and disposal of wastewater to prevent contamination of rivers and ground water. The fracking industry has demonstrated that it can extract natural gas safely.