

Gregory Maher

This country is already drowning in enough natural gas to last us 200 years. It is almost as cheap as dirt. The potential risk to our drinking water is not worth the hazard. No hydrofracturing in the Delaware basin!