

Henry Berkowitz

Frack water contains radioactive elements. There is a proposal to release frack water into the Allegheny River in Coudersport, Pa. but the company hoping to be permitted to do this will not guarantee that some of the water to be released will not be contaminated with radioactivity. Can you guarantee it for the Delaware River?