

Joseph Caravano

We do not need to take the risk of contaminating our Delaware River Basin with the bi products from fracking, espically in such a populated area. The need for fossil fuels is becoming less and less every year. What we need is more reliable solar , wind and renewable energy choices to help cut our excessive production of contaminated effects of fossil fuels. We need to leave our planet healthy for future generations !!!