

Ronald Gambino

We must take heed before we continue to synthetically alter the balance of our natural environment any further. We must continue to seek alternative solutions if we are to provide a sustainable future.