

Ryan Mead

The Upper Delaware River is a National scenic and recreational river for the current public and future generations to enjoy. The negligible financial and energy gain at the regional level from allowing any sort of activity related to hydro fracking pales in comparison to protecting this wonderful resource for every American. Please do what you know is right in your hearts for the river and do not be distracted or swayed by the dollars/jobs/economic/etc reasons presented by the natural gas companies. Future generations and their enjoyment of the Delaware River all depend on your decisions. Do the right thing - do not allow hydrofracking, natural gas production/pipeline, water withdrawal, or brine/waste water treatment in the Delaware River Basin.