

Lini Kadaba

As the federal government under the Trump administration rolls back protections of the environment, it is up to states to protect the American people. Dumping contaminated fracking water in our sources of drinking water makes no sense. Extend the ban.