Dear DRBC,

I am an 18 year old student from Downingtown East high school and I want to do all I can to prevent fracking in the Delaware River Basin. We cannot allow fracking in our waters because of several possible issues involving human health and wildlife health. The fluid mixture used to reach the natural gas is composed of harmful chemicals and carcinogens that will seep into our water supplies which will eventually poison us. Also, our beautiful wildlife will lose habitat in extraction areas and will also share the same health problems we humans will have. Do you really want us to suffer just so some people can make a profit?
