

Steven Izzo

What intelligent person can consider discharging Wastewater with the variety of contaminants contained in produced water from fracking operations into a body of water used as drinking water for Millions? When considering the entire scope of consequences from fracking operations of either oil or natural gas, it is complete Insanity to go forward with this technology knowing how the Delaware River basins Waters will be contaminated. How much cancer is too much? When it happens in your family? People are sick of seeing their health and well-being sacrificed for financial reasons of corporate entities. Renewable energies have been proven to be up to the task of supplying the needs of our populations, clearly fossil fuel corporate money in state legislatures is our real problem... creating the disease and sickness of citizens in this area in exchange for their profits. Make them pay the real cost of running there corporations themselves, not through Public Health sacrifices. A ban on all fracking operations in the Delaware River basin is absolutely mandatory for the health and well-being of the Delaware Valley peoples.