

Kathleen Cevette

Fracking has shown to be very dangerous and hazardous to communities and wildlife. Contamination seeps into the ground water and ultimately causes health problems for those living near by and death to wildlife who depend on their only habitat. All life is sacred, much more than oil. We cannot drink oil. What is the point if all the people to be served are dead!