

Leslie McClure

The scientific evidence is in and our precious water is at risk. When there is a shortage, we will have a refugee crisis unlike anything we've ever seen before. In the meantime, fracking uses too much water and pollutes the ground water needed to be potable for drinking.

We have the resources to build green sustainable technology, so please keep it in the ground.

WATER IS LIFE!