

Monica Weiss

NYS has banned hydrofracking for all of the right reasons. It impacts the climate. It is a public health issue. It impacts our air, water and food with contaminants. It is completely illogical and counterintuitive to embrace, support, promote or allow anything related to fracking from infrastructure to waste disposal to compromise our health. The choices we make today will affect future generations as well as those of living now who don't wish to be poisoned. The age of fossil fuels is over and we need to stop feeding this monster once and for all.