

Matthew Ford

Protecting our water resources should be of the highest priority. Any regulations should have this requirement as part of their rule.

Revisions not accepting this regulation should be eliminated in favor of protecting this liquid treasure for future generations.