

Susan Meacham

The natural gas industry has pulled out all the stops to try and convince us all that natural gas is the answer. It is NOT. There is a huge body of information that clearly shows fracking contaminates our drinking water sources; there is medical information that the transmission and use of natural gas spews carcinogens into the air and leads to respiratory distress and disease; the use of natural gas in cook stoves has now been found to be unhealthy because of the gases that are released into well insulated homes. But the industry leaders are spending millions if not billions of dollars on misleading ads and lobbying to sway public opinion in favor of natural gas. Why? Because there is money to be made.

But agencies like yours MUST stand strong against this onslaught. Not only is fracking poisoning our air and water and contributing to earthquakes, but the disposal of all the fracking wastewater that this industry creates will cause more pollution, more sickness, and more harm to our environment.

Please - don't side with corporate greed. Stand with the people who overwhelmingly want to protect our environment and our rights to clean air and water. Stand with the families that are in jeopardy of losing their homes and farms to this fracking madness - eminent domain is being mis-used and only adds to the misery and the harm to us all.

You have worked long and hard to ensure that this area is protected - don't stop now. Please so NO to fracking and to fracking wastewater disposal in the Delaware River Basin. We, the people, are counting on you.....