

Bernard Gurman

The Delaware River Valley is a rare jewel which should be protected by any and all means. I cannot believe that any thoughtful person would, on their own, wish to destroy the beauty and valuable water source. Please do not allow anyone, for any reason, to change the Valley.