A sweeping ban for the basin is a gross overreach of the DRBC authority. The DRBC is blatantly disregarding the rights of landowners in the basin. A prohibition on gas exploration, drilling and extraction within this region is in contrast to the adjacent Susquehanna River Basin. To date, the SRBC Commission's network of monitors has not detected discernible impacts on the Basin's water resources (scientific fact!). The fact is, actual science (that can be backed up), doesn't care what you believe!
