

Joseph Miller

I'm quite concerned of the nature of the chemicals being inserted into the ground. Also the need for this is head scratching when most of the gas is to be exported. I think if we moved a little slower instead of bowing down to the God of profit we would all benefit and profit together.