I am against fracking in and around the Delaware river. Human error historically has proven to never be flawless. Therefore jeopardizing our ecosystem and water quality is completely out of the question. Other earth friendly power sources should be the primary focus. Fracking is opposed by all whom understand the fragility of nature and how we as humans have consistently destroyed our waterways. "Oil and Water do not mix" your methods of drilling and extracting will have a huge negative destructive impact on the clarity and environmental impact is something no one can afford to tamper with! Leave the Delaware river alone!
